From servers, to workstations, to laptops, DS3 provides backup, restore, and disaster recovery for the entire enterprise. Our automated process virtually eliminates human error, and offsite backup is made even more secure with advanced encryption technology. DS3's agent-less architecture makes set-up simple. Our services are highly compatible with a wide range of network platforms and applications. DS3 offers an enhanced return on investment by saving companies time and money. Finally, all services and features are covered by one "pay for what you use" monthly cost and fully supported by our dedicated customer service team. In business longer than any other dedicated industry player of our size, at DS3 DataVaulting we deliver on our commitment to be a full service data management resource.

Backup

- » Automated backup process greatly reduces the risk of losing data.
- » Backup times are dramatically diminished by advanced software functionality that decreases the amount of stored data and trims the monthly storage cost.
- » Gone is the tedious task of managing the backup process so IT professionals and management are free to focus on other business critical issues.

Restore

- » Easy access to files, mail stores, and databases stored locally on the "gateway" abbreviates the retrieval process.
- » Online restore capability facilitates the speedy return of accidentally deleted files, which makes end users more productive.

Disaster Recovery

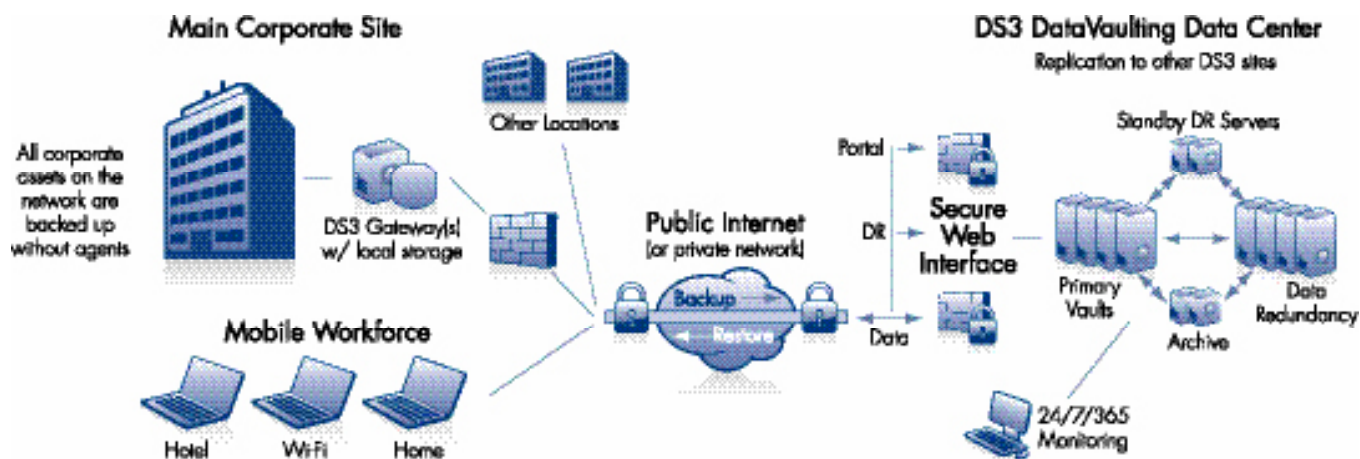

- » Inherent recovery functionality simplifies data return in case of disaster.
- » Stand-by servers in data center offer secure Internet access.
- » Full disaster recovery efforts are available in a fraction of the time required by other service providers.

Services - Backup, Restore, Disaster Recovery

In today's complex world, companies and organizations require increasingly more from their data management solutions. Backup reliability is mandated. Restores are measured in seconds. And, disaster recovery is a business imperative. As a trusted data management partner, DS3 enables customers to prepare for the worst while proactively managing their data. DS3 transforms data from a liability into a resource.
